Linerless Labels

We are all about being eco-friendly, and this label is just one of the many steps we're taking to be responsible.

Features:

- Cost-effective labels that pack more into every roll, saving those transportation rands!
- Be kind to the planet with eco-friendly labels. No matrix to strip means less waste, less hassle, and lower costs.
- These labels are like chameleons, bonding to all sorts of substrates, even recycled materials!
- Get ready for some serious sticker love! These labels are pressure sensitive and react like magic with the gloss coating.
- Application methods galore! These labels are versatile and can be used in a variety of ways, including in delis, warehouses, and retail plants.
- These speedy labels can accommodate high print resolutions and fast application speeds, but don't worry, they're just as happy going slow and steady with lower temperature requirements.
- Plus, they're perfect for warehouse and retail plants, effortlessly marking items with removable labels.

Say goodbye to those fussy backing papers! These labels are pressure-sensitive and liner-free! Not only is this a win for your wallet, but it's also a win for Mother Earth, too! The demand for these hassle-free labels is skyrocketing, so let's join the movement!

These liner-free labels are easy to use and apply, making the labeling process faster and more efficient. Plus, without the need for backing paper, there's less waste produced which is a great thing for our planet. These labels are also highly durable and resistant to water and fading, ensuring that your labeling needs are met for a long time. So say goodbye to the old and hello to the new with these amazing liner-free labels. Join the movement towards a more sustainable and efficient way of labeling!
